NON-FINAL REJECTION

Specification

It is noted that this application appears to claim subject matter disclosed in prior Application No. 09/609,469, filed 3 July 2000. A reference to the prior application must be inserted as the first sentence(s) of the specification of this application or in an application data sheet (37 CFR 1.76), if applicant intends to rely on the filing date of the prior application under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120, 121, or 365(c). See 37 CFR 1.78(a). For benefit claims under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c), the reference must include the relationship (i.e., continuation, divisional, or continuation-in-part) of all nonprovisional applications. If the application is a utility or plant application filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(a) on or after November 29, 2000, the specific reference to the prior application must be submitted during the pendency of the application and within the later of four months from the actual filing date of the application or sixteen months from the filing date of the prior application. If the application is a utility or plant application which entered the national stage from an international application filed on or after November 29, 2000, after compliance with 35 U.S.C. 371, the specific reference must be submitted during the pendency of the application and within the later of four months from the date on which the national stage commenced under 35 U.S.C. 371(b) or (f) or sixteen months from the filing date of the prior application. See 37 CFR 1.78(a)(2)(ii) and (a)(5)(ii). This time period is not extendable and a failure to submit the reference required by 35 U.S.C. 119(e) and/or 120, where applicable, within this time period is considered a waiver of any benefit of such prior application(s) under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120, 121 and 365(c). A benefit claim filed after the required time period may be accepted if it is accompanied by a grantable petition to accept an unintentionally delayed benefit claim under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120, 121 and 365(c). The petition must be accompanied by (1) the reference required by 35 U.S.C. 120 or 119(e) and 37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) or (a)(5) to the prior application (unless previously submitted), (2) a surcharge under 37 CFR 1.17(t), and (3) a statement that the entire delay between the date the claim was due under 37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) or (a)(5) and the date the claim was filed was unintentional. The Director may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional. The petition should be addressed to: Mail Stop Petition, Commissioner for Patents, P.O. Box 1450, Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450.

If the reference to the prior application was previously submitted within the time period set forth in 37 CFR 1.78(a), but not in the first sentence(s) of the specification or an application data sheet (ADS) as required by 37 CFR 1.78(a) (e.g., if the reference was submitted in an oath or declaration or the application transmittal letter), and the information concerning the benefit claim was recognized by the Office as shown by its inclusion on the first filing receipt, the petition under 37 CFR 1.78(a) and the surcharge under 37 CFR 1.17(t) are not required. Applicant is still required to submit the reference in compliance with 37 CFR 1.78(a) by filing an amendment to the first sentence(s) of the specification or an ADS. See MPEP § 201.11.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 8, 9, and 23 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 4 and 12-15 of U.S. Patent No. 6,615,367. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all the differences would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.

Claim 8 of the instant application discloses a method for determining one or more faults causing a no trouble event in a locomotive wherein no cause has been determined for the no trouble found event. This is disclosed in the preamble of claim 4 of the patent, where the addition of a locomotive is obviously a type of machine as disclosed in claim 4.

Claim 8 of the instant application further discloses (a) selecting a no trouble event that occurred on the locomotive. This is disclosed in steps (a)-(c) of claim 4 of the patent, where the addition of a locomotive is obviously a type of machine. With regard to the additional limitations in claim 4 of the patent consisting of the receiving of data and receiving of no-trouble-found-event data, which are not included in claim 8 of the instant application, the omission of these limitations in claim 8 of the instant application is an obvious expedient since the remaining limitations of claim 4, steps (a)-(c), of the patent perform the same function as the limitations in claim 8, step (a), of the instant application (In re Karlson, 136 USPQ 184 (CCPA 1963)).

Claim 8 of the instant application also discloses (b) determining faults occurring on the locomotive within a predetermined time interval prior to the no trouble found event. This is disclosed in step (d) of claim 4 of the patent, where the "interval prior" is obviously a "time relative" to the no trouble found event.

Claim 8 of the instant application also discloses (c) determining correlations between faults determined at step (b) and the no trouble found event. This is disclosed in step (f) of claim 4 of the patent, where the distinct fault cluster includes faults determined to be relevant in step (d) of claim 4.

Claim 8 of the instant application finally discloses (d) selecting at least one fault with a relatively high correlation from step (c). This is disclosed in claim 12 of the patent, where the selection of the possible cause includes selecting at least one fault with a high correlation.

Claim 9 of the instant application further discloses that a locomotive repair is associated with each fault, the method further comprising: (e) implementing the repair associated with the selected fault on the locomotive. This is disclosed in claims 13 and 14 of the patent, where claim 13 shows that known repairs are associated with distinct faults and claim 14 shows the implementation of the repair.

Claim 23 of the instant application discloses the method of claim 8 in the form of a computer program product. In a similar fashion, claim 15 of the patent discloses the method of claim 4 of the patent in the form of a computer program product. Therefore, the computer program product of Claim 23 is rejected in view of claim 15 of the patent using the same arguments as those applied above in the rejection of claim 8 of the application in view of claim 4 of the patent.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10-22 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion
